

Top 20 Things to do this Summer in Vancouver:

- 1-Explore Stanley Park's seawall by biking, rollerblading, running or a nice easy stroll
- 2-Head up to Prospect Point with coffee or ice cream in hand and enjoy the lovely view. Prospect Point is the highest point of Stanley Park.
- 3-Enjoy a first come first served one hour Horse Drawn Carriage tour of a part of Stanley Park with a highlight stopover of the totem poles.
- 4-Stop and smell the roses in Stanley Park's Rose Garden
- 5-Savor an award winning gelato from Bella Gelateria – a crowd favorite
- 6-See Vancouver from up in the air with the city's best-selling floatplane tours
- 7-Visit Vancouver Lookout Tower and learn much about the city while admiring the 360 degree panoramic view at the buildings observation deck.
- 8-Head out to English Bay beach in July and witness the annual fireworks competition.
- 9- At various locations around Vancouver are free outdoor concerts, dances and farmers market.
- 10-Explore the city on foot with a variety of specialty walking tours.
- 11-Harbour Cruises offers a relaxed pace of water tours such as Inner Harbour Cruise, Indian Arm Luncheon Cruise and Sunset Dinner Cruise.
- 12-For more of a fast boat experience, Sea Vancouver and Sewell's Marina offers this experience.
- 13-Take pictures of Vancouver's lovely clear sunsets at English Bay – a favorite "end of the day" activity of a lot of locals too.
- 14-It is Cruise ship season, join the crowd welcoming passengers as the ships come in or bid them Bon Voyage as the ships leave from Canada Place.
- 15-Head up to Grouse Mountain and enjoy the view as well as the various summer activities like the Lumberjack Show and Birds in Motion.
- 16-Hiking is a popular activity among locals and there are various nearby trails that are easily accessible via public transportation.
- 17-See if you can beat the record on the challenging yet fulfilling Grouse grind.
- 18-Savor gastronomic feasts while watching the crowds go by at various outdoor patios in the city.
- 19-Stroll along the lovely grounds of Queen Elizabeth Park, Van Dusen Gardens or Nitobe Gardens. An oasis which are minutes away from downtown.

20-A scenic day trip of beautiful Victoria, the capital of British Columbia. It has an old charm feel and features the frequently visited Butchart Gardens.