

A watercolor illustration featuring various herbs and a ginger flower. In the top left, there are sprigs of purple flowers with green leaves. Below them, more green leaves and small purple flowers are visible. On the left side, there are green leaves with serrated edges. In the bottom left, there are green leaves with a feathery texture. On the right side, a large, vibrant pink ginger flower is in full bloom, showing many layers of petals. The background is a light cream color with soft, horizontal brushstrokes in shades of yellow and green.
